New Case Manager for NCM

Caroline Smith has recently joined the Northern Community Mediation (NCM) staff. Prior to joining NCM, she attended The University of Michigan, where she received her Bachelor of Arts Degree with distinction in Political Science and in Sociology with a sub plan in Law, Justice and Social Change. She completed the individual Honors in the Liberal Arts Project through the Honors program with a focus on the Social and Cultural Dimension of Citizenship, and completed 15 credit hours in interdisciplinary graduate level courses. While at The University of Michigan, she received numerous honors and recognitions.

Caroline served as Head Counselor for the Michigan Mathematics and Science Scholar Summer Camp under The University of Michigan Math Department. She also was a Research Assistant for a PhD candidate in the School of Public Health, and was the Captain of The University of Michigan Women's Club Ultimate Team.

With her interest in studying law, Caroline's skills are well-matched as a Case Manager. In that capacity, she will handle small claims and general civil cases. Additionally, she will oversee the Victim-Offender Reconciliation Program and the First-Time, Offender Shoplifting Program. Her knowledge of all forms of social media are especially appreciated in that she will oversee NCM's Facebook and Twitter accounts.

Northern Community Mediation is a non-profit organization that provides an alternative means of resolving conflict. Trained mediators, who meet with the parties involved in a dispute, facilitate so that the individuals themselves can resolve the conflict
