New Board Member

Northern Community Mediation (NCM) is pleased to announce that Maureen Hollocker has joined the NCM Board of Directors.

Maureen Hollocker is the Director of the Great Start Collaborative of Charlevoix, Emmet and northern Antrim Counties. In addition to her work with the Great Start Collaborative, she is a national trainer for the Alliance of Children's Trust & Prevention Funds, a keynote/workshop presenter on the Strengthening Families Framework and Gallup StrengthsFinder, a board member for the Child Abuse Prevention and Education Council and a steering committee member for Leadership Little Traverse and the Resilient and Trauma Informed Community Task Force.

Maureen holds a Bachelor of Arts in Communication from Michigan State University, Master of Public Administration and graduate certificates in Nonprofit Management and City Management from Villanova University.

Aside from work, Maureen likes to travel, spend time with family and friends and enjoy northern Michigan in the summer.

With her experience and background, Maureen is an excellent addition to the NCM Board of Directors.

Northern Community Mediation is a non-profit organization that provides an alternative means of resolving conflict. Trained mediators, who meet with the parties involved in a dispute, facilitate so that the individuals themselves can resolve the conflict
