

THE TEDDY BEARS' PICNIC

On Wednesday, September 8, the Women's Resource Center was again able to hold Women Can/Women Do, a major fundraiser for the organization. For the third year, the staff at Northern Community Mediation was one of the table designers. This year's theme was The Teddy Bears' Picnic. Each of the women at the table received Polly Cheney's book on bees, an adorable teddy bear and a honey jar. Not only do the staff have fun putting together one of the tables, it is also an excellent means of promoting NCM and its mediation services. Previous years' themes have been The Queen of Spades and Women of Note.

IMPRESSIVE

Congratulations to Lee Hornberger, a mediator for NCM, who was selected by his peers for the inclusion in The Best Lawyers in America for 2022. Also, kudos to Scott Brinkmeyer, a past mediator for NCM, on the publication of his thriller-mystery, Mark of the White Rabbit. And, past mediator and trainer Steve Tresidder is in the process of writing his second book.

MICHIGAN COMMUNITY MEDIATION ASSOCIATION (MCMA)

MCMA is the professional organization comprised of the executive directors of the 17 Citizen Dispute Resolution Program (CDRP) centers in the state of Michigan. On October 4 & 5, MCMA held its annual meeting at Tree Tops in Gaylord with some members attending via Zoom. Some of the major topics discussed were the roll out of the Behavioral Health Mediation Program, the expansion of MI-Resolve, MCMA's having been awarded the Agricultural Grant Program for the state, and MCMA's strategic plan.

SOCIAL MEDIA PRESENCE

Help spread the word. NCM is making a concerted effort to increase its social media presence. This includes at a minimum bi-weekly posts on both Facebook and Instagram. Everyone reading this newsletter can help by liking, commenting on and / or sharing the posts with your friends. Also, if you have ideas for the posts, please call NCM with your thoughts.

ANOTHER FUTURE MEDIATOR?

Board member Emily Hoffman and her husband Clark are expecting an addition to their family in March. Since they know they are having a little girl, they are giving serious consideration to changing her last name from HoffMAN to HoffLADY.

CONGRATULATIONS

Mediator and attorney Katie Mott has joined the law firm of Kirkpatrick, DuBois & Slough in Gaylord. Not only has she joined the firm, she is one of the partners. Way to go, Katie. The frosting on the cake is that she will continue to be one of our mediators.

CERTIFICATES

For those of you who are mediators, when you participate in an advanced, mediator training, it is important that you send a copy of your certificate to NCM so that we put that in your folder. As you know, mediators are required to do at least eight hours of advanced, mediator training every two years in order to maintain the status as a mediator in the state of Michigan.

QUOTE OF THE MONTH

I had too much fun was no one's last regret ever.

USELESS FACT

Rubber bands last longer when refrigerated.

THE TEDDY BEARS' PICNIC

On Wednesday, September 8, the Women's Resource Center was again able to hold Women Can/Women Do, a major fundraiser for the organization. For the third year, the staff at Northern Community Mediation was one of the table designers. This year's theme was The Teddy Bears' Picnic. Each of the women at the table received Polly Cheney's book on bees, an adorable teddy bear and a honey jar. Not only do the staff have fun putting together one of the tables, it is also an excellent means of promoting NCM and its mediation services. Previous years' themes have been The Queen of Spades and Women of Note.

IMPRESSIVE

Congratulations to Lee Hornberger, a mediator for NCM, who was selected by his peers for the inclusion in The Best Lawyers in America for 2022. Also, kudos to Scott Brinkmeyer, a past mediator for NCM, on the publication of his thriller-mystery, Mark of the White Rabbit. And, past mediator and trainer Steve Tresidder is in the process of writing his second book.

MICHIGAN COMMUNITY MEDIATION ASSOCIATION (MCMA)

MCMA is the professional organization comprised of the executive directors of the 17 Citizen Dispute Resolution Program (CDRP) centers in the state of Michigan. On October 4 & 5, MCMA held its annual meeting at Tree Tops in Gaylord with some members attending via Zoom. Some of the major topics discussed were the roll out of the Behavioral Health Mediation Program, the expansion of MI-Resolve, MCMA's having been awarded the Agricultural Grant Program for the state, and MCMA's strategic plan.

SOCIAL MEDIA PRESENCE

Help spread the word. NCM is making a concerted effort to increase its social media presence. This includes at a minimum bi-weekly posts on both Facebook and Instagram. Everyone reading this newsletter can help by liking, commenting on and / or sharing the posts with your friends. Also, if you have ideas for the posts, please call NCM with your thoughts.

ANOTHER FUTURE MEDIATOR?

Board member Emily Hoffman and her husband Clark are expecting an addition to their family in March. Since they know they are having a little girl, they are giving serious consideration to changing her last name from HoffMAN to HoffLADY.

CONGRATULATIONS

Mediator and attorney Katie Mott has joined the law firm of Kirkpatrick, DuBois & Slough in Gaylord. Not only has she joined the firm, she is one of the partners. Way to go, Katie. The frosting on the cake is that she will continue to be one of our mediators.

CERTIFICATES

For those of you who are mediators, when you participate in an advanced, mediator training, it is important that you send a copy of your certificate to NCM so that we put that in your folder. As you know, mediators are required to do at least eight hours of advanced, mediator training every two years in order to maintain the status as a mediator in the state of Michigan.

QUOTE OF THE MONTH

I had too much fun was no one's last regret ever.

USELESS FACT

Rubber bands last longer when refrigerated.